

THE COCONINO SUN.

B. C. Olney announces that he is a candidate for the office of town marshal. Mr. Olney has many friends in Flagstaff, who will no doubt do all they can to help elect him to that office. He is fully qualified to fill the office, and if elected will make an efficient official.

Godfrey and Stanley Sykes, with their families, left Wednesday for Needles. At that point they will build a boat and go down the Colorado river to the Gulf of California. At Yuma they will be joined by Messrs. Hussey and McLean, and the party will spend six weeks camping at points which they have visited before, and they may visit Tiburon island.

Sergeant William Matson, leader of the orchestra, accompanied by Chauncey Woodbury, J. Stearn, R. Wasson and Charles Scranway, of the Fort Wingate military orchestra, were in town Monday and furnished excellent music for the masquerade ball of the Woodmen of the World. Sergeant Matson is a gentleman whom our citizens are always glad to meet and welcome to our town.

William Bailey, formerly a conductor on the A. & P., the P. & A. C., the United Verde and Pacific and the S. F. P. & P. railroads, and known to every traveler in Arizona, was killed last Saturday on the Sierra railroad in California—the Bullock road. He was a conductor on a freight train, and while riding on the pilot the engine ran into an open switch, turned over and caught Bailey underneath, crushing his life out.

W. B. Foster of San Francisco spent several days here this week. Mr. Foster is connected with the Lion Insurance company, and adjusted the loss on the Binkley residence, destroyed by fire last week. Mr. Foster also made a number of changes in policies carried by the company here. The Lion has paid fire losses to policy holders in Flagstaff which aggregate something over $31,000. The losses have always been paid in full and promptly. The local agent of the Lion is E. S. Clark.

Frank C. Reid of Flagstaff arrived in the city last night and will spend a week or more in the valley visiting and resting. On next Tuesday evening he will deliver an illustrated lecture on the Moqui Indian snake dance under the auspices of the local lodge of Good Templars and on Thursday of next week will deliver a temperance lecture in one of the city churches. Mr. Reid has urgent calls to go to Tucson, Tempe and Mesa with his snake dance, and may arrange to do so before returning to Flagstaff. Arrangements are almost perfected for his appearance on Thursday evening next at Tempe.—Phoenix Herald.

A most pleasant pre-Lenten reception was held at the residence of Dr. D. J. Brannen on Saturday evening, February 19. The guests were received by Mrs. Brannen, assisted by Miss Margaret Murray. Progressive whist and many new and exciting parlor games consumed the early part of the evening, while vocal and instrumental music followed the refreshments. Among those who participated in the festivities were Mrs. T. A. Riordan, Mrs. Harry Fulton, Miss Gertrude Tolfree, Miss Florence Dukes, Miss Leatha Coffin, Mrs. Cullinan, M. J. Riordan, C. H. Edwards, T. A. Flynn, T. E. Pollock, L. W. Quinlan, J. G. Verkamp, E. A. Sliker, B. A. Cameron, F. C. Hochderffer, H. P. Cullinan and J. P. McGovern.
